The bride was attired in an afternoon dress of off-white with which she wore a matching hat and veil. Her other accessories were on brown and she wore a corsage of deep red roses.

Mrs. Reid chose a soft blue ensemble and her corsage was of Talisman roses.

Following the ceremony a reception for 20 was held at the Harris Sky Room. The tables were attractively decorated with mums and tall tapers, and a two-tiered wedding cake centred the bride's table. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Ralph Jamison and responded to by the groom.

Hockey Club Starts New Year Right—Win Two and Tie One

Defeat High River and Stavely In League Fixtures and Tie Shaughnessy in Exhibition Tilt The Vulcan hockey team remains undefeated in the New Year after three games. Showing far more class than in any of the previous games this season, the locals out-scored High River and Stavely in league games and played to a draw in an exhibition game with Shaughnessy. Results of these first games in 1947 have moved Vulcan to fourth place in the Foot-hills league standing. Vulcan's lineup was strengthened in these games through the addition of Don Jantzie and Pat Walker, two of last year's puckchasers.

Vulcan 7—High River 4

Playing before a record crowd in the Vulcan Arena on New Year's Day, the local team trimmed High River Flyers 7-4.

High River took a 2-1 lead in the first period, but Vulcan came back to make it 3-3 in the second and then scored four times to the Flyers' once in the third frame. Defenceman Bennie Dann scored the prettiest goal of the game when he skated from his own blue line through the entire High River team to fire in a high shot that caught the top of the net.

Kirtan, the big High River defenceman, was still playing in the rough and tumble game. He has since been suspended for the season for hitting a Nanton referee in a previous game.

Vulcan 9—Shaughnessy 9

On Thursday night, Jan. 2, Vulcan fans were again treated to a thrilling fixture when the team played a 9-9 tie in an exhibition game with Shaughnessy.

The first period saw Vulcan take a 6-1 lead, but Shaughnessy fought back to score five goals to Vulcan's lone counter in the second. Neither team played quite so wide open in the third period, but it became rougher than ever as Vulcan was forced to come from behind to tie the score. The game was a real stand-out from the fans' point of view.

Vulcan 7—Stavely 2

The high flying Vulcans made it three straight without a loss when they whipped the luckless Stavely team 7-2 on Jan. 8th. Ronnie Marshall playing at a terrific pace throughout the game, figured in each of Vulcan's seven goals. Glen Fisher, with three goals and three assists picked up six points for himself.

Marshall received an injury to his shoulder when he was checked into the boards late in the game, but it is not expected that the injury will keep him out of the lineup in future games.

CANADIANS

ON January 1 all native Canadians and British subjects in Canada were born to a new status; that of Canadian citizenship. Millions of people in Canada, who heretofore had been described officially as of Irish, Scottish, Scandinavian or other origin, became full-fledged Canadian citizens overnight. For several decades census takers have run into difficulty on this question of nationality. Many Canadians, who are generations removed from any land but Canada, have protested vigorously against digging back 100 years or more into the past to give themselves a national background. They have been staunchly declaring themselves to be Canadians and nothing else. Perhaps this element of our citizenship will be the most gratified that the long overdue Canadian Citizenship Act has become law.

It is gratifying also to feel that we are at last differentiated from other British subjects all over the world. We share the classification of "British subject" along with scores of other races in the Commonwealth of Nations; with black, yellow and whites. But first and foremost we now are ourselves Canadian citizens, and Canada is our primary allegiance.

Our status, whether as native born or naturalized, is much more clear cut than in the past, and should impress itself more forcefully upon those who adopt this country as their own. Those who take out nationality which they tread. They vow loyalty to the naturalization papers swear their allegiance to the land, streams, the mountains, the forests and the plains; the great cities and the quiet villages which they have come to know and love as Canada. They swear to stand by fellow citizens of Canada, the people who live in the teeming centres and remote solitudes. This is their country. These are their people, now and henceforward in peace and in war.

The ceremony of entering into Canadian citizenship can be made an impressive and dignified event, and it is planned in the future to impress more deeply upon the foreign-born applicant, the responsibilities which he is undertaking and the privileges to which he is entitled. During the current week, the new Act is memorialized all over Canada with special ceremonies marking the new step in the progress toward real nationhood.

The new Act has important meaning for women. Formerly women applying for citizenship were in the same category as minors or insane persons. Under the new Act they have control of their own national status. When a Canadian woman marries an alien, she no longer automatically changes her nationality. She retains her Canadian citizenship till she voluntarily and formally relinquishes it. A woman who marries a Canadian citizen may, hereafter, obtain citizenship after one year's residence, but those who were admitted to Canada before January 1 become Canadian citizens automatically. An alien wife does not become a Canadian because her husband has been naturalized. She must apply separately and receive her own certificate as a Canadian.

dividuals and it blesses him who gives even more than him who receives. One would think that the same would apply to a nation which is merely a collection of individuals, but alas it doesn't.

A resolution passed by a clerical body in the United States set forth in the preamble that conflict is the normal condition with nations. There was a time when that was true of individuals as well. They had fist fights in streets and public houses as well as at fairs other than Donnybrook. It died a slow but honorable death forty or fifty years ago. That, together with litigation, was the way they settled their disputes in those days. They are more sensible now, and less bellicose.

That aggregation of individuals called a nation changes when it becomes a nation because group psychology is different from individual psychology. The "take" spirit remains and is accentuated, but the "give" spirit vanishes. If it is a democratic country its government will also vanish if it gives away anything to another nation without a quid pro quo, and its chances of survival are better if it can show it got the better of the bargain.

In his latest book "Grey Days" W. H. Moore, ex-M.P., quotes at the head of chapter V this extract from Le Bon, which illustrates the difference between the psychology of the mass and the individual:

Candidates in recent municipal elections will perhaps never know for certain that their defeat was caused by the fact that the camera man told them to smile.

If there is one man entitled to make New Year resolutions it is surely he who has broken all his old ones.

If one should say that a recent Canadian appointment to the Imperial Privy Council debased the coinage, it would do no injustice to other Privy Counsellors, because all Canadians would know which one was meant.

1946 Edition of Canada Year Book

A complete summary of statistics and data in respect to the contemporary Canadian scene is assembled in the 1946 edition of the Canada Year book which is now available from the King's Printer Ottawa at $2.00 per copy. A limited number of paper-bound copies at $1.00 each have been set aside for bonafide clergymen, teachers and students.

All information in respect to agriculture, industry, trade, fisheries, lumbering, mining and so on have been brought up to date. Chapters on finance, prices, education, etc. give latest information on these phases of Canadian life. A new section on vocational training is included in the Labour chapter, and data on all resources is exhaustively treated.

The chapters on Internal and External Trade are very complete and valuable information is contained on Canada's contribution to the food supplies under the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (F.A.O.).

Barley Varieties in Western Canada

Recently, the Dominion-Provincial Agricultural Conference recommended an increase of 19 per cent in the production of barley for 1947. This year, therefore, information as to what barley varieties should be grown in Western Canada, and where they should be grown, is of particular importance. The results of the 1946 barley variety survey, conducted with the assistance of 2,227 Line Elevator agents, is given here.

Manitoba—In 1946, the percentage of the total barley acreage occupied by the officially recommended varieties was as follows: Plush, 27.2; O.A.C. 21, 26.7; Sanalta, 12.6; Wisconsin 38, 9.3; and Mensury, 6.1 per cent. Garton occupied 11.3 per cent of the acreage. The following varieties of feed barley are recommended for Manitoba in 1947: Sanalta, Plush, Wisconsin 38, and Garton (for late sowing only). Montcalm, O.A.C. 21, and Mensury (Ottawa 60) are the recommended varieties of malting barley.

Saskatchewan—O.A.C. 21 is the most popular barley variety in Saskatchewan. In 1946 it occupied 26.1 per cent of the total acreage. The remainder of the barley acreage was occupied as follows (1945 figures in brackets): Plush, 17.0 per cent (13.8); Prospect, 13.9 per cent (12.7); Haanchen, 12.9 per cent (13.7); Regal, 6.8 per cent (9.2); Rex, 6.3 per cent (7.4); and Newal, 2.3 per cent (0.9). Trebi, a variety lacking official approval in 1946, occupied 7.3 per cent (9.1) of the acreage. The varieties Montcalm, Titan, and Warrior were also recommended for Saskatchewan in 1946.

Alberta—In 1946, O.A.C. 21 occupied 29.4 per cent of the total barley acreage; Newal, 27.7 per cent; Trebi, 18.4 per cent; Oli, 13.0 per cent and Sanalta, 3.1 per cent. In general, this distribution of barley varieties was similar to that of 1945. Little change, therefore, can be expected in 1947.

A Note of Importance—All farmers and Line Elevator agents should consult with their local Agricultural Representative concerning the varieties of barley that are officially recommended for their particular district in 1947.

Alberta Bill of Rights Declared Partially Valid

Alberta Appeal Court Finds Part One is Valid, But Second Part Unconstitutional. Unanimous Decision

Decision has been given by the Alberta Appellate Court on the validity of the Alberta Bill of Rights. Five judges came to unanimous decision in their findings. It was agreed that the first part of the Bill was valid, but that the second part was outside the authority of the province. The decision was that "it not merely interferes with, but actually prohibits banks from carrying on any of their business without a license under the act."

The first part of the act, outlining the rights of citizens was considered within the jurisdiction of the province.

Part two provides for fines against any credit institution operating in Alberta without a provincial license, and for a provincial board to take over management of such institutions under certain circumstances.

The appeal court found it is "clear the act deals with banks and banking a subject matter on which parliament is given the right to legislate." The judgment added it has been held repeatedly that though the Dominion may infringe on provincial rights, the "provinces cannot be permitted to infringe on subject matters assigned to the Dominion."

This bill approved by the legislature at its last session but not put into effect pending a court ruling on its validity was divided into two parts.

Part one, "a statutory declaration of the just rights and responsibilities of the citizens of Alberta," provided for pensions for unemployment and old age, education and medical benefits, and social security payments to give each adult Albertan a minimum annual income of $600.

missioner was authorized by part two which the government said deals with methods by which rights set out in part one "can be realized in actual experience." The second section provided for licensing of chartered bank branches and set out penalties of from $1,000 to $5,000 for each day of non-license operation.

Hon. Lucien Maynard, Attorney-General, has contended that the new bill differed from previous Social Credit legislation because it involved no new medium of exchange and no control of trade. He also claimed that credit is inseparably linked with property and civil rights which are provincial prerogatives.

Counsel for the Dominion Government and the Bankers' Association urged that it was essentially banking legislation infringing on federal legislation.

According to the judgment handed down the method for implementing the Act would be to take control of all credit institutions and to set up a 5-man board of commissioners for the purpose.

The privy council in a recent decision on an appeal from Quebec found that the term "banking" in the B.N.A. Act embraces every transaction of that nature and no province has the right to enter the field. The judgment also found that the Bill of Rights would prohibit banks from carrying on any of their business without a license under the act.

FEEDING ALASKA (Vegreville's Observer)

It seems that the good people of Alaska have been nearing the verge of starvation, due to lack of their regular supplies shipped usually from Seattle. So an S.O.S. was sent to Alberta to help out and quite a large quantity of food-stuffs have gone forward via the Alaska Highway. Alberta can easily feed all Alaska and hardly miss the stuff.

But there is no shortage of food for the Alaskans from the United States. The trouble is that the docks at Seattle, loaded with plenty of food destined for Alaska, are under a strike and the Labor Unions in control will not permit ships to be loaded or leave the port. To gain their ends, whatever they may be, the Unions would just as soon starve the people of Alaska as not.

There is a screw loose somewhere in the machinery of government in the United States—and some screws loose in Canada, too. With the world's biggest navy at its command, it seems strange that the U.S. government cannot cope with a strike, which endangers the lives of the citizens.

Military District 13 is going out of existence after having headquarters in Calgary for the last 30 years. Western Command headquarters are now in Edmonton, where Col. Snow, O.C. and Maj-General Worthington assisting.

H. H. Hanna, president of Canadian Federation of Agriculture, says that a farm strike to be successful would have to be organized on a 100% national basis, but he sees no reason why the farmer hasn't as good a right to strike as any other occupational class. It is also pointed out that farmers work about 70 hours a week compared with the general 40 hour week.

Obituary

Delbert Leroy Frizzell

Delbert Leroy Frizzell of Vulcan and formerly of the Blackie district, died at his home in Vulcan at the age of 68 years. His death occurred suddenly on Dec. 16 following a heart attack. The bereaved family included his wife; his mother, Mrs. Emil Frizzell of Oakland, Iowa; and a nephew, Sam Slump of Wisner, B.C., who had made his home with Frizzells, when he was a boy. Two sisters and two brothers also survive. They are Mrs. Leo Yard of Omaha Nebraska; Mrs. Roy Maxwell and Garfield Frizzell, Kansas. His father predeceased him four years ago.

Born at Arlington, Illinois, in 1878, Mr. Frizzell moved with his parents to Oakland, Iowa, when a small child. On Dec. 26, 1906, he married Adda Clair Slump, and in 1910 they moved to Blackie district, residing on the farm there, till they moved to Vulcan five years ago.

He became a member of the Methodist church at an early age, continuing membership in the United church. He had been a member of Blackie Masonic Lodge for over 20 years and was also a member of the O.E.S. for some years. He was held in high regard as a loving husband, good friend and neighbor.

Funeral services were held from High River United church on Dec. 19 at 2.30. Rev. Wm. Morrison of Aldrie conducted the service assisted by Rev. O. H. Rollis. Mrs. Russell Collier of Vulcan sang "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" with Mr. Pollard accompanist. The Masonic Order attended the service in a body and conducted Masonic funeral rites at the graveside. Interment was in the Highwood cemetery, with the Snodgrass

Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Honorary pallbearers were: Van Heywood, Marion Peterson, Ray Peck, Dan McNiven, Owen Malmberg and Lou Russell. Active pallbearers were Verne Peterson, Jack Walker, Ross Wilderman, Albert Swartz, Earl Malmberg, Don McNiven.

470 head of cattle were sold at the Claresholm community sale. Steers from the Stanley Wyatt ranch sold up to $13.20 to top the sale. Heifers brought up to $12.

BACK TO CANADA?

Several more shifts in the Canadian diplomatic corps may be announced within the next three weeks, and may involve posts in Ottawa, Mexico City and Moscow. Jana Wilgess, now in Moscow, where he has been the subject of some Russian criticism recently, is reported anxious to retire.

Items From Bob Edwards' Inimitable "Eye Opener"

In the issue of the High River Eye Opener, September 19, 1904, Bob Edwards has added to historic lore by discovering the lost tribes of the Israel right round High River. He puts in a strong plug for matrimony on the ground of self-preservation. His comment on commissions, Royal or otherwise, is harsh, and he obviously resents the horse stealing charges against Peter McGonigle. He is deeply chagrined over his experience in Wetaskiwin when the town gave a great ovation to a departing store clerk, and then tossed off the outgoing editor (Edwards) with little more than a snarl.

We understand from latest despatches that croquet is regarded as a fast and somewhat immoral game at Okotoks.

Last Tribes Found

The lost tribes of Israel in the dishevelled shape of Galicians and Doukhobours are getting the south branch of the C. and E. in shape, ballasting with gravel, and giving it complete overhauling. The immunity from accidents which this road has enjoyed is doubtless due to the incessant watch of Niblock, superintendent, who is forever on the prowl.

Oh For a Spinster

We have reached the conclusion that the reason married men make so few breaks compared with single men is because their wives interpose and prevent them making fools of themselves. This is a sound argument in favor of matrimony. Therefore bring on your spinsters, and in your bringing bring nothing but spinsters, spinsters, spinsters. It is love that makes the world go round and marriage enables it to get square.

Commissions

The people of Canada are long suffering but some day they will rise. A new fangled commission was appointed lately to look into the Chinese question in B.C. This little look cost $39,203. There were four needy Liberals on the commission but their expense accounts do not agree. Mr. Clute's board bill was only $549, while Mr. Deane ate at the rate of $1,066. And when it came to washing Mr. Deane was much cleaner than his colleagues. His laundry was $17.29. Mr. Foley on the other hand had 8 1/2 months' washing done for $1.50. And apparently Mr. Clute never changed his shirt at all. But speaking seriously, the B.C. members have been informing the government for years on the Chinese question. What early need was there for a commission?

McHugh — McGonigle Clash

The charge brought by Felix McHugh against Peter McGonigle, editor of the Midnapore Gazette, for having a horse bearing the McHugh brand in his unlawful possession, was tried last week and dismissed on the ground of insufficient evidence. Evidence for the defence was brought out to show that said animal was a trick horse and had learned the art of entering a strange barn alone and tying himself by a rope to the manger. Mr. McGonigle stated that the barn behind his printing office in which the horse had been found, was completely empty when he went to bed, except for back numbers of the Gazette. He had no idea how the horse got there and denounced his arrest as an outrage. Mr. McGonigle's many friends are justly outraged at aspersions thrust on his character. This sentiment they have shown by consenting to drink with him every time he will set them up. Mr. McGonigle left the court room without a stain on his good name. The horse is back in McHugh's pasture.

I Wasn't Liked

That there is quite a difference in the social standing of a clerk in a store and a literary gentleman like myself, was well illustrated at the time of our departure from Wetaskiwin. The clerk had been in that lovely, lovely city for a year. The literary gent (meaning myself) had been there off and on for 9 years. The clerk had "accepted a position" in a grocery store at Gleichen. The literary gent had "struck a job" editing a paper down south. Each was accorded a farewell. Here are the farewells as reported the following week in the local paper. First the clerk, then the editor, as befitted their station.

"A farewell reception was accorded Mr. George P. Grummles at the Panhandle church by his numerous friends, on the occasion of his departure from our midst to accept a responsible position in the mercantile establishment at Gleichen. Mr. Grummles had been one of the most popular young men ever to have graced Wetaskiwin's bright social circles, and the only gentleman with knock-knees ever to be idolized by the fair sex in these parts. The church was beautifully decorated and several appropriate speeches were made. At the leading citizens and wives were present. After they had given him a gold watch, a purse of money and a letter to the Gleichen pastor, Mr. Grummles replied feelingly.

He wound up a fine speech with an impassioned appeal on behalf of the store clerk to merchants in general. A handsome bouquet was presented by the ladies of the choir, and there were prayers for Mr. Grummles' continuing success in the grocery trade."

Then the next item was about the literary gent, and it occupied a midget of space in the rear of the splash about the clerk. This is what that paper said about me.

"At the Grafters hotel the other evening a gang of so-called sports herded up to bid goodbye to Mr. Fewclothes who seems to have struck a job down south. It is reported that he will edit a paper. After a lunch of crackers and sardines, beer was served. Only the ruder element of town appeared at this dubious function. There were no speeches, but several police."

One book which can be most sincerely and heartily recommended is Major General Griesbach's book "I remember" which has been published recently. In it the late Senator has assembled his life time of recollections of the early west. Every angle of Alberta development is tied in with humorous and enlivening incidents, and there isn't a dull page. This is likely to stand through time as one of the best and most readable records of early western history.

Suffering China Calls

to Canadian Farmers

WAR has spread wreckage and suffering among the 500,000,000 people of Canada's Pacific neighbor—China.

Blasted from farms and villages, millions of Chinese families are homeless, hungry and in rags, dying daily from starvation and disease. China was first to feel the Fascist onslaught. For eight terrible years—from July, 1937 to August, 1945—China heroically breast the aggressor's hordes. Two years longer than any of her allies!

Farmers Call to Farmers

To-day, China presents a heart-rending spectacle to Canadians mercifully spared the ravages of enemy guns and bombs. And especially to Canadian farmers!

About 83 per cent. of China's 500,000,000 people are peasant farmers. To the scourge of Japanese planes and artillery have been added, in many districts, flood or drought, and shortage of seed grain. Besides the need for food, clothing, medical supplies, hospital equipment, there is urgent need for reconstruction of farms and homes.

Canada's Aid Essential

During the war, Canadians, through The Chinese War Relief Fund, sent to China some $2,654,000 in money and over 1,464,000 pounds of used clothing, valued at some $2,929,000. But the aftermath of war can be more terrible than war itself. The world-wide relief work of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Agency (UNRRA) ends March 1st in China. The burden will fall on voluntary agencies. So Canadian Aid to China (formerly The Chinese War Relief) is making a national appeal. This is an urgent call to Canadian farmers to support this effort.

How YOU Can Help

To make it more convenient for YOU to participate, all Elevator companies have been authorized to receive donations of part of grain deliveries as Aid to China.

When you deliver grain to your Elevator, simply tell the Elevator Agent how many bushels you wish to donate to Canadian Aid to China.

The aim is one per cent. of the storage capacity of each Elevator. Will YOU help to make this possible?

Enlightened Self-Interest

This appeal is to our common humanity as citizens of the One World from which to-day we dare not isolate ourselves. In helping to rehabilitate the Chinese, we are hastening a return to world health and progress.

But we may well remember that China is not only a World Neighbor of Canada, but a good potential customer for our products. In helping her to recover from her war wounds, we are building goodwill and laying the basis of profitable relations in the days to come.

WHAT TO DO

When you deliver grain to your Elevator, simply tell the Elevator Agent how many bushels you wish to donate to CANADIAN AID TO CHINA. Your Agent will make out a ticket in the name of CANADIAN AID TO CHINA for your donation. Official Receipts will be forwarded to you from your Provincial Headquarters for income tax purposes.

No cheque to write, no cash to pay, no mailing to do. It's as simple as that!

CANADIAN FARMERS, BE GENEROUS! CHINA, A GOOD NEIGHBOR, NEEDS YOUR HELP!

This is the only national appeal to be made in Canada during the next twelve months for Chinese relief.

Propose New Salary Rate For Foothills Health Unit

Report presented at Board meeting indicates salary schedule would be province-wide in scope. Dr. Jackson forecasts resumption of adult clinics in unit. Staff changes.

At the Dec. 18 meeting of the Foothills Health district, the question of increased finances came up for discussion. J. H. Sutherland, who had gone to Edmonton as representative of this district to discuss a new salary schedule, gave his report. A copy of the new proposed schedule was presented to the meeting, and it was explained that before this schedule could go into effect, the local tax collecting authorities would have to approve the increase in local taxation from $7000 to $8000 per annum. If this is done, the government grant will be increased correspondingly. The plan for increased salary schedule was approved by the board, and the secretary was instructed to write the various local bodies advising them of the proposed increase and recommending that it be approved.

Dr. Jackson presented his report showing the work that had been done during the past three months. One of the discussions centred round herds of cattle infected with Bangs disease and a number of questions were asked on this matter and its effect and control.

Dr. Jackson was queried on the matter of adult clinics in the Foothills district, and it was stated that a limited number of such clinics could be taken care of possibly once a year.

The secretary referred to several accidents to automobiles used by the staff and advised that most of the cost of repairs would be covered by insurance and there was no reason to believe the accidents were due to negligence on the part of the drivers.

Reference was made to the resignation of Miss Irene Stewart, and also to the resignation of Mrs. Nellie Jeffers. The executive, it was stated, had employed Miss Evelyn Olsen subject to the approval of the board. This approval was given.

The secretary reported sale of the Plymouth coach, property of the Health district, which following direction of the Board, had been sold. The purchaser was George Hodges, formerly of the R.C.A.F. This selection was made by draw, in which 14 ex-servicemen had made application for purchase.

It was carried that a copy of the new proposed salary schedule be sent to the various tax collecting authorities.

The secretary presented details of the financial report from Sept. 1 to Nov. 30 showing a balance of $496.47 on hand. It was carried that the passing of funds be approved by chairman and secretary till the next meeting.

Food Production In World Better

The United States agriculture department said world food production for the 1947-48 crop year will be about seven per cent above last year's low level, and may even edge above the pre-war average.

Population increase is a factor to be considered in the world food situation, the department noted. It is seven per cent above the pre-war figure. Therefore, on a per capita basis, food supplies for the 1946-47 consumption year are about five per cent below pre-war. The 1946-47 demand for food exports promises to be nearly as great as during the last year, reflecting a desire of many low-consumption countries to rebuild reserves and to raise nutrition standards.

The most pronounced production increases occurred in war-devastated countries and in areas stricken by drought last year. Nevertheless, the output in many of these areas still is far below average.

In continental Europe as a whole, excluding Russia, production is indicated at about 90 per cent of prewar, a substantial increase over last year, when it was less than 89 per cent.

The National Board of Review at New York has voted "Henry V" a British color film as the best picture of 1946, with special tribute to the star Laurence Olivier. Four of the best ten films were made outside U.S.A.

More than 200 delegates attended an emergency meeting of the Alberta Teachers' Association in Edmonton asking Hon. R. E. Ansley, Minister of Education, for a $1500 Alberta minimum plus a better pension scheme. It was a wordy battle, one contention being that Albertans paid 5 times as much on liquor and tobacco as teachers' salaries.
